President's Message: October 2004

Greetings fellow Froggies (and Friends of Froggies)

As you may know, with the combination of wild weather, my recuperating from surgery, and various work and family obligations on the weekends, I have yet to be able to go diving this season. Well, I attempted to change that a couple of weekends ago. Amazingly enough, the Production Department revolted at work (about time), and decided not to work on the Sunday, thus releasing me from my obligation to show up as well. I took the opportunity to go diving with my fellow Froggies, and showed up at the Burger King parking lot at 7:30 AM to wait for the rest of the group. About twenty minutes later a pickup truck pulled up behind me and parked. As I had gone into the Rest Area to grab some breakfast at the Dunkin Donuts, I was happily munching away in my car when the pickup pulled up behind me. I kept glancing in my rearview mirror to see if I recognized the person in the truck, but I had never seen him before. The man behind me began reading a newspaper, so I decided to finish eating my breakfast sandwich. When I had finished eating and drained half a cup of coffee, curiosity got the better of me, so I decided to get out of my car, and inquire if he was here for the North Shore Frogmen Sunday Dive. It turned out that he was, and that he was waiting for John Ferrier to show up. I proceeded to introduce myself, and found out that his name was Mike Tyson (no, not THAT Mike Tyson!). Mike had recently gotten back into diving after a hiatus of almost twenty years, and he heard about the club while taking a refresher course at Bobby Boyle's shop. He gave me his contact information (now where did I put his address...) so I could mail him a membership application. As soon as he finished writing, John Ferrier drove up in his red van and rolled down his windows to chat while we waited to see if any other Froggies would show up to go diving. As the time to depart was getting near, John called Daryl to see if he was coming, and within minutes, Daryl's jeep pulled into the parking lot.

The four of us quickly decided to see if we could dive Lane's Cove that morning, so we piled back into our vehicles and took off. When we reached Lane's Cove, we were pleasantly surprised to see how clean and spacious the parking area had become; we were able to park along the sea wall, and quickly move our gear out onto the rocks. Since this was my first dive of the season, I took my time assembling my gear, making sure that there were no cracks in any of the hoses, or any corrosion on the connectors. The dive computer's battery checked out as well, and the tank had plenty of air--it looked like I was good to go!! Given John's ability for some extreme bottom times, and the fact that Daryl tagged along to test equipment rather than go diving, I buddied up with Mike for the dive. I carried the dive flag (always dangerous, given my propensity for getting tangled up in my own line), got in the water, and was able to pull on my fins and gloves without much problem. Mike and I finned out a bit farther on the surface away from the rocks, then agreed to submerge. I got to the bottom without much trouble (I always dive a little negative), but Mike was having difficulty making it to the bottom. Eventually, he was able to power kick himself down to the bottom, and motioned for me to lead the way. I gave Mike the 'OK' sign, checked my depth, air, and compass heading, and finned off away from shore, gliding above the algae-encrusted rocks. The visibility wasn't the greatest; it was murky beyond 10-15 feet, probably as a result of storm surge from the remnants of the hurricane situated offshore. I kept looking over my shoulder to check on Mike, when I felt a tug from the dive reel clipped on my BC. My dive reel is used to tend flag, so I knew that it was time to pay out more line. Unfortunately, I let the tension on the line become too tight, so that I couldn't pay out any line with the reel clipped on my BC. I then turned around completely so I was facing the line, so I could come shallow and reduce the tension enough so I could unclip the reel from my BC and pay out more line. As I was struggling with the clip to release the dive reel (blind of course, because I couldn't angle my mask down enough to see what I was doing), I suddenly started to suck water through my mouthpiece! My mouthpiece was firmly clenched between my teeth, so I attempted to inhale again--still water!! At this point, I forgot about the dive flag, and started to get a bit concerned. I spit out the mouthpiece (which was no longer connected to the second stage I later realized), and went for my octopus. The mouthpiece of the octopus released from its holder alright when I tugged on the body of the regulator, but then I lost contact with the regulator, and the octopus drifted BEHIND ME out of reach. I struggled for several seconds to reach the octopus hose behind my head, but I couldn't grab it well enough to pull it around the BC. Finally, I gave up and went for the surface by kicking my way up. Lucky for me, I was only 10-15 feet down at the time. I shudder to think what could have happened had I been 60 or 70 feet down and this comedy of errors occurred!!! I have NEVER experienced a mouthpiece just pop off from a regulator like that before, and it never occurred to me to check the tension on the tie wrap before the dive (I never thought tie wraps could loosen up once they were cinched down tight). Mike surfaced to see if I was alright. After some coughing and sputtering, I was able to mumble out that I was OK. He then asked why I did not come to him for help if I was out of air. To tell the truth, things happened so quickly, and I was so "tunnel-visioned" that I forgot that he was even there. Now that I was out of danger, I was angry at myself and embarrassed that I got myself in such a situation. Some first dive!!! I did make an attempt to continue the dive with the octopus after resting on the surface for a few minutes, but I found that the primary regulator would not stop leaking air without the mouthpiece. I handed over my dive flag to Mike so that he could continue the dive, while I snorkeled back to shore. I felt exhausted once I was back on dry land again. My bottom time according to my dive computer was only 14 minutes. Mike came back to shore about forty minutes later, having enjoyed an uneventful dive. Mike and I helped each other get our gear back over the rocks, and we packed our cars and got back into our street clothes. We returned to the rock ledge to await John's return, which happened about a half hour later. Not surprisingly, John was successful with his bug-hunting (4 for that dive, I think, and I believe he stayed for a second dive after Mike and I left). The next day, I had to replace my $30 orthotic mouthpiece which I spit out and lost with a $5 standard mouthpiece (the shop was out of the Sea Cure mouthpieces that fit my regulator--of course!!). Moral(s) of the story: 1) Check EVERYTHING before you go on a dive, even those innocuous little pieces of equipment that couldn't possibly malfunction, 2) Fasten the regulator hoses to the front of the BC so they won't drift behind you out of reach, 3) Pay out line for your dive flag BEFORE you need to, 4) Don't forget that you have a buddy (you do, don't you?) who can help you if you need it, and (for me) 5) Look into alternatives for the location of the octopus--it does you no good if you can't get to it!!!

I joined Dave Smith and several other Froggies for our annual CoastSweep Beach Cleanup at Niles Beach a couple of Saturdays ago, and although I do not know the actual number of pounds of garbage that we were able to drag off the beach, we did a great job collecting 8-10 trash bags, several boards, and four tires!! A heartfelt thanks to all who were able to attend!!! We had perfect weather for the Beach Cleanup too!

We had our Annual End-Of-Summer Picnic on Sunday, Sept. 19th at Stage Fort Park in Gloucester. The picnic was well attended, and we had great sunny weather (although a bit windy) despite the torrential downpours from Ivan on the previous day. It didn't begin to cloud up until the party was wrapping up late in the afternoon. We had an overabundance of tasty food (as usual) which will be transferred to the Minuteman Rail-Trail Bike Ride this coming Saturday at Roslyn's house. Great fun was had by all!!! Hopefully someone was able to take pictures, as I neglected to bring my camera.

As always, don't forget to check out the Activities website at www.geocities.com/nsfrogmen/activities.html or the Activities Calendar in Air Bubbles for upcoming events. That's all for now!

Meeting Summaries

26–August–2004

Meeting called to order: 8:12 PM
Attendance: 3 Officers, 15 Members

Committees:

- Secretary's Report: Ray Porter – Meeting minutes accepted as read.
- Treasurer's Report: Rich Kinkade – Account balances accepted as read.
- Membership: John Ferrier – nothing to report.
- Program: Dave Smith & Daryl Findlay - See activities list. Need coordinators for annual club picnic.

- Air Bubbles: Mary Howard – Articles are due.

Dive Talk:

- Dodie: A diver had everything including his cooler stolen while diving at Loblolly.
- Dan Hering – Saw Ralph Arabian in another dive boat, never met him before.
- Dan Hering – got a big lobster snorkeling at Mingo beach.
- Jack Munro and John Ferrier - Sunday Old Garden (saw Mike Tyson). Got 1 lobster. (Water temp 48-49°F)
- John Ferrier - Saturday - Lanes Cove w/ Metro West. Harbor master had pulled lots of the trailers from the lot. Lots of spiny dog fish 2 to 3 feet long. Not many lobsters or stripers.
- At Plum Cove – Mass Bay divers had tires cut, and all quarter panels keyed on their cars.
- Dodie – Dive from hell on Martha's Vineyard. Long walk to dive site. Lots of surfers. Depth of 11 feet. Lots of rocks and surge. Fell while wading along beach and popped her shoulder out. Got one lobster, some quahogs and steamers.

General Discussion:

- Mary Howard – Bob Pierson of Reading died while diving off Kettle Island. On private boat from Palmer's Cove.
- Mike's moments:
 - Salem News – Harbor seals died in Maine (several hundred total, 27 just last week).
 - Lobsters dying maybe related to warmer water.
 - Channel 5 - Army Corp decided to dredge on Monday. Did not notify lobstermen, who saw their traps being dug up.
 - Internet – Maine eating lobster contest winner. Winner was a woman named Amy, 105 lbs.
 - Daryl Findlay – Friendship of Salem offered a cruise from Salem. Stopped at Star Island (Isle of Shoals) overnight. Water was very clear, could see sea life on bottom. Sailed into Portsmouth and up the river. It was very foggy.

- The next week he went to Pensacola, Florida. Water was clear but no sea life, no coral. Planning to sink an aircraft carrier in over 200 ft of water.
 - Joe Terra – Neighbor has boat for sale.
- Raffles: Dollars Box: Peter Chapman
Mystery Prize: Rick Holloran
Bug Bag: Pony bottle ongoing.

2–September–2004

Meeting called to order: 8:10 PM
Attendance: 4 Officers, 9 Members
Guest: 1 – Annette Rawley

Committees:

- Secretary's Report: Ray Porter – Minutes accepted as amended.
- Treasurer's Report: Rich Kinkade – Account balances accepted as read.
- Membership: John Ferrier – No Report
- Program: Daryl Findlay & Dave Smith - See activities list. Need club picnic coordinator
- Air Bubbles: No report

New Business:

- Dues – What keeps a person from attending club events and not pay their dues? Primarily, peer pressure. Non-members do not get Air Bubbles mailed to them. They may get a copy sent electronically.

Dive Talk:

- Dave Metrano – Kettle Island wind and high surf, low vis and cold. Broke mask strap while at depth.
- Bill Werner – Halibut Point (walked in) Depth 70 ft., water temp mid 40s. Vis 10 to 15 ft. Water calm, easy entry and exit.
- Dan Hering – Cocktail Cove – Snorkeling, Vis 15 ft. Got 2 bugs.
- Darryl Rawley – Work dive outside of liberty marina. Friend smashed his finger between a tank and a steel railing. Darryl grabbed it underwater trying to ask how it was feeling. NOT good.

General Discussion:

Air Bubbles – October 2004

- Dan Hering – Herald – Basking sharks close to shore somewhere in Maine, so they closed the beach.
- Rich Kinkade - Herald – Beluga whale in Newburyport Harbor seen in dock area.
- Mary, Mia, Dave, Daryl, and Dave's son. Went to the "Open Water" movie. Great movie. Good suspense. Original event happened in the South Pacific.

Raffles: Dollars Box: Jack Munro
Mystery Prize: Dan Hering
Bug Bag: Pony bottle ongoing.

9–September–2004

Meeting called to order: 8:10 PM
Attendance: 4 Officers, 13 Members

- Treasurer's Report: Rich Kinkade – Account balances accepted as read. Bill for website hosting $254.49. Motion to fund the website (1st Choice International) for the next year. Seconded. Discussion about alternative sites, updates to the website, club codes and access and website. Motion passed with 11 affirmative, 5 negative and 1 abstention.
- Membership: John Ferrier - Nothing to report.
- Program: Daryl Findlay & Dave Smith - See activities list.
- Air Bubbles: Mary Howard – Deadline for submissions for next issue: Sept 20.

Old Business:

- RE: Dues: Picnic fee of $5 for non-members. Recommend listing unpaid members in the next Air Bubbles in a friendly way.
- Picnic: There will be a meeting after the meeting for those who are helping out for the picnic.

New Business:

- Annual Banquet – John Sears: Can we structure banquet to that raffles could be held without interfering with the time the band plays?

- Website Issues. – Need to make the site accessible to alternative browsers. Ray volunteers to meet with Rob about the website and report back to the club.

Dive Talk:

- Mary, Ray, Bill, Amy and Patty – Roslyn was shore support. Water temp was 51°F. Vis was 10 ft. Lots of sediment in the water. School of pollack, shark.
- Dan Hering. Gales Point Manchester. One tank dive. Vis 8-12 ft. Water Temp 50°F. Small lobster. Fishing boats were speeding through the dive site.
- Daryl met Jack at OGB. Waves were crashing in from hurricane. Daryl dove with a 2 mil, no hood. No vis (Braille dive). Water temp 50 to 56°F.
- John Ferrier – Cayman Aggressor 4 - Water temp 88°F. 26 dive total. Grand Cayman, Little Cayman and USSR 365 Russian Destroyer sites. A lot of algae on the Grand Cayman reefs. Little Cayman was good. Got some good photos on the wreck.

General Discussion:

- Mike's Moments:
- AGU reports a direct correlation between the bands on Jupiter and the currents on the ocean.
- Article about Charles Mazel and fluorescent dive lights in last Sunday's Globe Magazine.
- Mary Bergen is looking for a copy of the Peter Gimbel's Doria video. Her husband was part of the original expedition.
- Florida Froggies – Received some damage from hurricane Charlie. Lost electricity for 12 days.

Raffles: Dollars Box: Mia Peluso
Mystery Prize: Daryl Findlay
Bug Bag: Pony bottle ongoing.

Annual Club Banquet

The President's Banquet will be held on Saturday, December 4th at the Franco-American Club in Beverly, from 7PM to Midnight. We will again have TC and the Torpedoes play music at the banquet for dancing until midnight. Mark the date on your calendar!

Submissions deadline: November 4

Voting date: December 2

I hope everyone is planning to take lots of good pictures for this year's photo contest since we are planning to hold this wonderful event again this year. I also hope everyone plans to come and view the contributions on election night as they are always wonderful!

Contest rules:

Photographs should be submitted as prints, maximum size to be no more than 8" x 11". Please do not mount or frame your photos. These must be photographs taken since last December. There will be six categories for photos this year: (1) above water, dive-related, (2) under cold water, macro or close-up, (3) under cold water, standard or wide-angle, (4) under warm water, macro or close-up, and (5) under warm water, standard or wide-angle, and the newest category (6) is for digitally enhanced photos. Please do NOT enhance any of the submission for other categories. Please submit your pictures to me by November 4, but you can start turning them in any time in October. This gives you plenty of time to plan, so there will be no excuses or late submissions. And it gives me plenty of time to prepare the display.

Voting for the best picture in each category will be held on election night for new officers, December 2, 2004.

Mary Howard

Air Bubbles – October 2004

Officer Nominations

During the meeting on November 4, the floor will be open, and remain open for the next several weeks, to take nominations for club officers for 2005. Please seriously think about what the officers and committee chairs do for the club.

If you want the North Shore Frogmen's Club to remain viable and vital, consider taking on a larger role for next year. It gets to be a strain on the same people to keep doing all the work year after year. Even if you only want to organize one event, that is a big help to the club.

OR you could consider running for office. Anyone thinking about running for office, or thinking about nominating anyone for office, should read the club's bylaws, which are available on the Members Only section of the web page. The bylaws outline the specific duties of the officers, a good thing to know before running for an office! Among other things the bylaws require that "No person shall be eligible to hold an elective office in the Club until such person has been a Regular Member in good standing for a period of one (1) year."

Start thinking now about what role you want to take in the future of the club!!

Be sure to check out the Activities Website at:

2004 Dues Remaining Unpaid

According to the Club treasurer's information, the following have not paid their dues for 2004.

Diane Anthony
Ralph Arabian
Kevin Beyea
Paul Blanchette
Jim Burt
Rob Falk
Jennifer Ferrier
Dale Findlay
Nancy Gannett - ???
Carmen Henriques
Tim Loring
Dave Lund
Linda Marshall
Jim McKeon
Al Morris
Ray Mount
George Murphy
Steve Saucier
Bob Seibel
Candi Souza
Paul Stamegna
Mike Turner
Bill Vanderclock

If your name is listed above, the current club membership would like to invite you back to the fold. Please consider paying your dues and re-upping your membership. The club needs your support and we'd love to see you at meetings and other club events. It is especially sad to see former officers fall by the wayside. If it is only that you have forgotten, or if you keep putting it off, consider paying for this year and next year at the same time to eliminate the hassle of doing it twice! For anyone whose account is not cleared up by next month this will be your last issue of Air Bubbles.
